

CALIFORNIA AERONAUTICAL UNIVERSITY

AVIATION

MAINTENANCE TECHNOLOGY

Keeping a fleet of aircraft running like clockwork requires qualified professionals with the training, skills, and passion for aviation maintenance technology. Offered conveniently in Kern County, California Aeronautical University offers a Part 147 aviation maintenance technology program to prepare students for careers as airframe and powerplant (A&P) technicians. Veteran educational benefits for eligible students.

LEARN MORE TODAY

SCAN or VISIT
calaero.edu

1450 Boughton Drive
Bakersfield, CA

AVIATION MAINTENANCE TECHNOLOGY

ACCELERATED PROGRAMS

Offered in fast-paced, year-round courses, students can earn their diploma in about 17 months and an associate's degree in about 22 months. On-campus student housing available.

FINANCIAL AID AND VA BENEFITS

The University offers financial aid to those who qualify and accepts veteran educational benefits for eligible students.

SONIC TOOLS PARTNERSHIP

Through the University's partnership with Sonic Tools, each graduate receives a personalized 263-piece Sonic Tools toolkit upon graduation, valued at $6,000 per toolkit.

GRADUATE SERVICES

The University's Graduate Services Department provides individualized career planning assistance to help students find employment upon graduating, including resume review, mock interviews and job lead development.

SCAN or VISIT
calaero.edu

CAU
CALIFORNIA AERONAUTICAL UNIVERSITY