

CAU

CALIFORNIA AERONAUTICAL UNIVERSITY

FAA PART
141 APPROVED

CALIFORNIA AERONAUTICAL UNIVERSITY

WHERE CAREERS TAKE FLIGHT

California Aeronautical University is training the next generation of aviators. The University offers flight training degree programs for those seeking a commercial pilot career as well as other aviation-related programs. The flight program can provide a direct route to major and regional airlines.

NOW ENROLLING

SCAN or VISIT
calaero.edu

SUPPORTING SPONSOR

FLIGHT TRAINING DEGREE PROGRAMS

- Bachelor of Science in Aeronautics
- Associate of Science in Aviation Studies

Designed for those seeking a commercial pilot career, students earn a university degree and up to six certificates and ratings, including:

OTHER PROGRAMS

- Aviation Maintenance
- Aviation Business Administration
- Master of Aviation Science

Eligible CAU grads can qualify for a restricted ATP, which includes a savings of 500 flight hours and flying for airlines up to 2 years sooner.*

ASK US TO LEARN MORE!

LOCATIONS

Located at Bakersfield International Airport, the University's main campus offers an immersive aviation experience complete with on-campus housing and dining facility. CAU also has Flight Centers in Ventura and San Diego Counties, as well as a campus in the greater Phoenix area.

SCAN or VISIT
calaero.edu

LEARN ABOUT TUITION REDUCTIONS AVAILABLE